

WHO CARES...

We have chosen the work of Greg Burns to illustrate this Annual Report of our 10th anniversary. The theme of this report -- Who Cares -- is reflected in Greg's work. His eye is drawn to those parts of our community where beauty is unexpected, and through his pen he shows us that value and nourishment for the human spirit are to be found in unlikely places.

Reproductions of most of Mr. Burns' works can be found at the Oklahoma Foundation for the Disabled, which, at his request, will receive the fee for the use of his work in this annual report.

Who Cares about Oklahoma City? Greg Burns does.

The cover is a Northeast view of Oklahoma City at Broadway and Main as it appeared in 1929.

MANEY HOUSE

REPORT ON THE YEAR

As we enter our second decade, the Community Foundation has come of age in this community. More people contributed to the work of OCCF in 1979 than in our entire history. More agencies received grants than ever before, and we became more deeply involved in the serious issues that confront us as a community.

The work of the Board of Trustees and Fiscal Board could best be described this year as an effort to make those adjustments in the set of our sails that will keep us best able to meet the needs of our donors and recipient agencies.

Our new board members, Jackie Carey, Dick Harrison, Ed Joullian III and Morrison Tucker have brought a vitality to the Foundation that has been reflected in increased participation by all members of the Board in the various phases of foundation work.

Especially busy this year was the Finance Committee, headed by Jean Everest; along with Morrison Tucker and Ed Joullian, Jean's intention is to re-evaluate our Fiscal Policies. This responsibility of supervision of the fiscal policies of the Foundation is mandated in the Treasury Regulations which guide community foundations. We agree that this is a most important function of the Board, and one which ours is especially well-equipped to handle.

The trustee banks were especially generous to the Foundation this year, and we would like to publicly appreciate their donating the tenth anniversary publicity in local newspapers. As well, the First National Bank sponsored a series of radio spots in our behalf, and Liberty Bank honored us with program ads. A series of television spots highlighting the work of the foundation were funded through grants to OCCF from McDonald's, Kerr-McGee Corporation, and Sylvan N. Goldman. We thank them for helping us spread the word about our work, and we hope that the fine quality of the work done by Lowe Runkle Company in producing those tv spots will be a source of gratification. The Lowe Runkle Company was generous as well in donating much of their staff time for this work.

This was a year for joining hands with other community organizations to help solve the problems of our city. A coalition of women's groups has been formed to study the problems of women in our community with the intention of working together to solve them. Another highly successful project was Leadership OKC, a seminar for board members of nonprofit agencies, designed to help them better understand their responsibilities.

In 1980, a Funding Seminar, jointly sponsored by OCCF, the Foundation Center, and McDonald's will train directors of nonprofit agencies in proposal writing and foundation funding.

More agencies than ever are coming to OCCF for funding of their projects, and we anticipate that these requests will increase as the economy becomes more restricted. We deeply hope that all of our donors shared in the pleasure we had in funding such projects in 1979 as the new Hospital Hospitality House, the Prairie Dance Theater, a playground for handicapped children at Sunbeam Home, the renovation of the Garden Neighborhood Council's recreation center, *Celebrations! Preschool's bilingual program and the street school for high school drop-outs.

We were proud as well to underwrite a series of high quality television programs on public television, beginning with Ivanhoe, Tom Brown's School Days, Last of the Mohicans, and Little Women. Projects such as these, which address immediate needs, are appearing on the desk of the Community Foundation with increasing frequency. We are anxious to be participants in meeting these sorts of community needs, which are funded primarily through our uncommitted funds. That is why we see an increasing need in the '80's for donors to put their funds in the Community Foundation's General Fund, the earnings of which can then be used to fund specific projects of immediate need in the community. This is the work a community foundation does best, and your Board of Trustees is committed to giving its most careful consideration to the use of these funds, especially as they become increasingly significant in the community.

Equally satisfying was the funding of the sets for Christmas Carol conceived by Greg Burns, whose work appears in this Annual Report. We consider it a pleasant community responsibility to encourage our fine artists and make opportunities for their work to appear.

This tenth anniversary year ended with a most exciting philanthropic event, from which 61 community organizations as well as the Foundation itself benefitted. That, of course, was the matching offer by an anonymous donor, which resulted in $739,494 being matched dollar for dollar in the Community Foundation. These extraordinary gestures of support tell us that we have indeed come of age, and as we enter the next decade, we look forward to increased opportunities for service to Oklahoma City.

THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES

The Board of Trustees serves as the Distribution Committee, and is the Foundation's governing body. Its nine members meet quarterly and are chosen for their integrity, leadership, and understanding of the philanthropic needs of the community. They authorize and control all grants made from funds of the Foundation in accordance with the terms governing each fund. Members serve for three-year staggered terms, serving a maximum of ten years.

OFFICE

THE FISCAL BOARD

Six Oklahoma City banks have adopted Trust Agreements with the Community Foundation, and are authorized to receive its funds in trust.

The investment program of each Individual Fund is handled by that fund's particular bank, as chosen by the donor. The income, and portions of the principal when so authorized, are turned over to the Foundation at the end of the fiscal year for distribution to charitable beneficiaries.

The Fiscal Board's responsibilities are to assure unity of purpose among the trustee banks, to fulfill the terms of the trusts, and to provide for the growth of the Foundation.

THE STAFF

Staff responsibilities include the examination of community needs and programs in the Oklahoma City area; the careful scrutiny of all funding applications prior to the Distribution Committee meetings; telling the story of the Foundation; managing the office records; and continuing liaison with other foundations, charitable organizations, governmental and other agencies and community leaders to assure that donated funds are put to best use. In addition, the Foundation staff consults with agencies in the community, helping them develop programs and find sources of funding outside the Community Foundation. The Staff participates as well in non-routine activities that fall within the chartered purpose of a community foundation.

MEMORIAL FUNDS ESTABLISHED IN 1979-80

CHESTER H. ROBERTSON

This memorial fund was established by Mrs. Chester Robertson and her children, Michael and Patricia, in memory of their husband and father, who died in 1977.

Mr. Robertson's lifelong interest in wild life and all animal life led them to designate the Rex Kennedy Rosser Education Center as the beneficiary of this memorial fund. Mr. Robertson established the Haymaker Sales Co., Inc., an internationally known auction company for thoroughbreds and quarter horses, and was a partner in Haymaker Farms, Yukon, Oklahoma, a breeding farm for racing stock. Through the years, he had served as President of the Oklahoma Quarter

Horse Association, Oklahoma Horseman's Association, and as a director of American Quarter Horse Association, the American Horse Council and the First National Bank of Yukon, Oklahoma.

The Community Foundation is honored that Mr. Robertson's family has chosen the Foundation to manage this memorial fund for a man whose life was devoted to a great Oklahoma tradition.

ADA VIOLA LANCE

The daughter of Ada Viola Lance has honored her mother's memory by establishing this memorial fund in the Community Foundation, with the earnings benefiting the Camp Fire Girls.

Born in 1876 on a farm near Petersburg, Wisconsin, Mrs. Lance taught school in South Dakota and Wisconsin prior to her marriage to George E. Lance. She had three children, who in turn gave her nine grandchildren, 43 great-grandchildren, and 15 great-great grandchildren.

Mrs. Lance was an active member of her church and community, and through her work in the church and as a teacher expressed her caring for young people. It is appropriate that her fund benefit the young women of Oklahoma City.

GEORGE AND JEWELL PARLEIR

During the summer of 1979, George Parleir discussed at length his impending death from a chronic fibrosis that had plagued him for five or more years. He had spent much of his time the past ten years working at Sunbeam Home and developing the quality programs for which that institution is known. Many of his ideas for residential care were included in their design of their new facilities.

Mrs. Parleir had been active in St. Luke's United Methodist Church, and was a secretary and bookstore manager at the Oklahoma United Methodist Conference Headquarters.

Mr. Parleir wanted to leave something behind that would guarantee that the services he helped establish at Sunbeam continued beyond his lifetime, and asked that a fund be established in the name of his wife and himself. Thanks to the matching opportunity this year at the Community Foundation, the memorial gifts were matched dollar for dollar and the fund begins with a substantial amount.

The Community Foundation is pleased to care for this fund and will manage it in the spirit and commitment of Mr. & Mrs. Parleir.

C.B. CAMERON

The Board of Trustees of Westminster Day School has established this memorial fund honoring C.B. Cameron, a founder, past chairman and board member of the Westminster Day School.

Along with his father, Mr. Cameron founded the American Fidelity Assurance Company in 1960, which he served as president beginning in 1968. He was a Director of the American Fidelity Corporation; Chairman of the Board and Director of North American Agency, Inc.; Secretary and Director, Cameron Building and Investment Company and Cameron Properties, Inc.; Director, Fidelity Bank, N.A.; Chairman of the Board and Director, National Marketing Associates, Inc.

He had earned his designation as a Chartered Life underwriter (CLU) and the FLMI by the Life Office Management Association.

An active member of Westminster Presbyterian Church, Cameron had served on the Board of Trustees, as a Deacon and an Elder. In addition, he served on the Committee of the Washita Presbytery and as a Commissioner on the Presbyterian Church Synod of the Sun.

Mr. Cameron was chairman and key founder of the Frontier Country Soccer Association; past president of the Economics Club of Oklahoma; a member of the Young President's Organization; past director of the Oklahoma City Chamber of Commerce; and director of the Oklahoma Council on Economic Education.

He served as an officer and director of Lyric Theater, was chairman of the Nichols Hills parks development committee, was in the Air Force Reserve, serving as Liaison Officer for the Air Force Academy; and was a past director of the Oklahoma City Symphony.

The entire community mourned the death of Mr. Cameron, who died November 27, 1977, following an airplane crash near Aspen, Colorado. This memorial fund will honor the work he has done for our community and especially for our children.

WILLIAM M. KILPATRICK

The family of Bill Kilpatrick requested that memorials in his name be added to the fund he established here at the Community Foundation.

A businessman and civic leader, Mr. Kilpatrick was an investor and developer, and served on the boards of several community organizations. He was president of Kilpatrick Brothers, Inc., Motor Lodges, Inc., and Kilco, Inc., as well as being a partner in Community Investors Ltd.

He served on the boards of Mercy Health Center, Senior Citizens, The Salvation Army, United Fund, Oklahoma City Chamber of Commerce, and the American Red Cross. He was a director of Fidelity National Bank and Lakeshore National Bank.

An avid and accomplished sailor, Mr. Kilpatrick was Commodore of the Snipe Class International Racing Association and was a past Commodore of the Oklahoma City Boat Club.

He served his community as well, as president of the United Fund and chairman of the United Appeal Drive, chairman of the Salvation Army Drive and chairman of the general division of the United Hospital Fund. He served his country in World War II, piloting 50 missions for which he was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross.

The loss of leaders such as Bill Kilpatrick is always sad for any community, but it is his family's hope that the memory of his deeds and the good spirits with which he gave himself will be preserved through this fund here at the Community Foundation.

MELVA BYER

Scores of friends of the late Melva Byer have expressed their admiration and love for this educator by establishing this fund in her memory. For fifteen years, Mrs. Byer was the director and head teacher of the Erna Krouch Preschool at Temple B'nai Israel. She developed the philosophy and the curriculum at the school, which is known as an institution of excellence for early childhood learning.

Mrs. Byer's work reflected her keen and positive approach to life, and her dedication to the well-rounded child. Under her spontaneous touch, the curriculum was continuously evolving, to include many new activities which brought a flavor of surprise and adventure to the school atmosphere. Mrs. Byer's sense for the excitement of learning was part of her gift to the children she worked with, and to the teachers whom she trained and taught with at the school. Never did education become a routine to her. She took a vivid delight in each experience. Her open heart and warm personality were the central force of the school. Parents enjoyed and shared in her program through their children, and gained in understanding through her expertise. A long roster of families in this city can attest to the influence Mrs. Byer had on the lives of their children, and the guidance she gave them as parents. She had all the talents of a great teacher, combined with the gift of being a friend to all the children. They will carry with them the memories of their preschool years which are imprinted with her image and her spirit.

The Melva Byer Memorial Fund will benefit the Erna Krouch Preschool so that the spirit of her work may continue to benefit us all.

REX KENNEDY ROSSER

When Rex Kennedy Rosser was lost to his family and friends in a tragic car accident in May of 1979, the entire community mourned the loss of this exceptional human being. Each was left with special memories of Rex, depending on where their lives had touched, because Rex was a boy of many gifts. He was a born naturalist, whose happiest times were spent backpacking, exploring, photographing nature. He was a sportsman, a musician, and a student of oratory. Along with his father, he accumulated an extensive collection of baseball cards.

It is fitting that the memorial chosen for Rex will introduce many young people to the natural world. The Rex Kennedy Rosser Environmental Education Center at the Oklahoma city Zoo will serve as a Visitor Center, an Orientation Center for student visitors, a Training Center for junior curators, docents, zoo biology students, staff and zoo preceptors, an environmental education center, a staging center for educational activities, and a special interest center for development of photography, artistic, and observational skills. Clearly had this center existed during Rex's lifetime, it would have been his second home.

FLORENCE O. WILSON

A great friend of the Community Foundation, Florence O. Wilson, died this summer and remembered OCCF with two generous bequests. One will be designated specifically for the Oklahoma City Zoo Library Fund, and the other will benefit the charitable agencies she remembered through the Oklahoma City Community Foundation during her lifetime: Allied Arts, Oklahoma City Zoo, National Cowboy Hall of Fame, YMCA, and YWCA.

Her bequest to OCCF will ensure that her lifelong pattern of charitable giving will continue in her name even though she is gone. For Oklahoma City, her price was truly "far above rubies."

Miss Wilson was the last member of a distinguished pioneer Oklahoma City family on whose farm the State Capitol was built. Throughout her life, she followed the tradition of philanthropy she had learned from her family, and her generosity benefitted many important institutions in Oklahoma City, especially Oklahoma City University, the Zoo, Oklahoma Medical Research Foundation, and the city's health facilities.

WEBSTER LANCE BENHAM

On the 70th anniversary of Benham-Blair & Associates, David B. Benham and the engineering firm have established the Webster Lance Benham Memorial Professorship at OCU through a fund in the Community Foundation.

Mr. Benham came to Oklahoma in 1907, having graduated as a Civil Engineer at Columbia University in 1905 and then having worked for New Jersey Zinc Co. for two years. Upon his arrival, he obtained a job as Assistant City Engineer for the City of Oklahoma City, and taught Civil Engineering at Epworth University, which later became Oklahoma City University.

Webster Lance Benham loved the engineering profession and believed the engineer should never forget that the public he serves trusts him and depends on him to do his work well.

Speaking to a group of university engineering students in 1945, he said: "The engineering profession is founded upon service to mankind and the engineer is a debtor to his profession which exacts conscientious effort, loyalty, honesty, and genuine service."

EMMA JORDAN MEMORIAL FUND

The Altrusa Club of Oklahoma City has established the Emma Jordan Memorial Fund, with earnings from this fund providing scholarships for women at St. Gregory's College in Shawnee.

Emma Jordan, a native Oklahoman, was a jeweler in Oklahoma City for many years, and was active in the Altrusa Club, the Business and Professional Women's Club, and St. Patrick's Church.

Altrusa International is the oldest women's service club in the world. Composed of business and executive women, its primary purpose is to enhance the wellbeing of women everywhere.

HONORING COMMUNITY SERVICE

THE HERSCHEL H. AND FRANCES HOBBS LECTURESHIP AT OKLAHOMA BAPTIST UNIVERSITY

The Herschel H. and Frances Hobbs Lectureship in Baptist Faith and Heritage has been established as the first endowed lectureship at OBU, with the funds residing in the care of the Oklahoma City Community Foundation. Friends of Dr. Hobbs, pastor emeritus of First Baptist Church, and Mrs. Hobbs created this endowment fund in honor of the couple's outstanding lives of service.

Dr. and Mrs. Hobbs have been at the First Baptist Church since 1949. Their service to their faith has included many years of active work with the Southern Baptist Convention, which he served as president, the presidency of the Baptist General Convention of Oklahoma, the presidency of the Southern Baptist Pastors' Conference, the presidency four times of the Board of Trustees of OBU, and the Foreign Mission Board.

Highlights of Dr. Hobbs' pastoral work include the 88 books and publications through which he has influenced millions of hearts and minds, and his appointment as Baptist Hour pastor in 1958. Through more than 400 radio stations, it is estimated that Dr. Hobbs preached to over 50,000 persons each week.

DR. ROBERT MCLAUCHLIN RECEIVES FIRST KILPATRICK AWARD

Receiving the first Kilpatrick Award for Volunteer Service was Dr. Robert McLauchlin, Oklahoma City surgeon. The award, presented through OCCF was made at the Leadership OKC Community Board Seminar in November. Mrs. William Carey, who serves on the Board of Trustees of OCCF, presented the award.

Dr. McLauchlin was recognized for his longtime personal counseling work with prisoners through the Volunteers in Corrections program. For four years, Dr. McLauchlin and his wife, Rosemary, have worked with women prisoners at Clara Waters Community Treatment Center and Mabel Bassett Community Treatment Center.

The Kilpatrick Award, established by the family of John Kilpatrick, Jr., will be presented yearly to honor exceptional work by a volunteer in service to the community.

Dr. McLauchlin's choice as the first recipient sets high standards for future years. The Community Foundation is proud to be party to this well-deserved recognition of selfless community service.

FRIENDS OF THE COMMUNITY FOUNDATION

Contributions of all sizes are welcomed at the Community Foundation, which exists as a philanthropic bridge between all donors and the nonprofit organizations working for the betterment of the Oklahoma City area.

The following individuals, families, and businesses, who do not have Individual Funds in the Community Foundation, have made contributions of up to $1,000 during 1979.

Most of these donations were made in memory of another individual or to honor a friend. Such contributions are placed in the General Fund, unless specified for an agency that has substantial monies already designated for it in the Community Foundation.

CITY of OKLAHOMA CITY

OKLAHOMA CITY, 73102

MUNICIPAL BUILDING

200 NORTH WALKER

April 16, 1980

Mayor
PATIENCE LATTING

Mr. John Kilpatrick, Jr.
Oklahoma City Community Foundation, Inc.
1300 North Broadway
Oklahoma City, Oklahoma 73103

Dear Mr. Kilpatrick:

I am pleased to take this opportunity to recognize the work of the Oklahoma City Community Foundation.

The Foundation's ten years of service to our community have demonstrated that people of goodwill are our greatest asset. Over one thousand people have contributed to the Foundation, which in turn has served one hundred non-profit agencies. Their money and concern have been translated into service to others.

I congratulate the Foundation on its tenth anniversary and wish it continued success as it serves our community and its people.

Sincerely,

Patience Latting
Mayor

THE GRANTS

The year 1980 will see the imprint of the Community Foundation in significant areas of city life. As our General Fund increases, we are in a better position to fund those projects which meet the many challenges our city is facing, in culture, education, health, and social welfare.

On the following pages, you will find the agencies we will be partners with for 1980. That's what grantmaking is, of course; the formation of a partnership between the donor and the grant-seeker to solve a problem or provide a needed service for the community. The agency can't do it without the funding, and the money won't work unless there are good people to put it to proper use.

We have listed the grants in each field according to the source of grant money: Designated Funds, General Funds, or Grants From Principal. Definitions of these terms will help you understand our grantmaking system:

GRANTS FROM DESIGNATED FUNDS:

When donors make gifts to the community foundation, they may request that the earnings from their gifts be distributed to specific agencies. The Board of Trustees considers these requests with care, and if the agency requested by the donor is considered to be an appropriate recipient of foundation funds, performing a needed service for the community and doing it well, then we respect the donor's request and distribute the earnings from his Individual Fund to the specified agency.

GRANTS FROM THE

GENERAL FUND: Donors often make gifts to the Community Foundation and request that the Board of Trustees use the earnings where the need is greatest in the community.

They may, if they wish, suggest an area of particular interest, such as culture or health. These Undesignated Funds are especially important to us, because it is with them that we are able to fund specific projects that are brought to us each year. We were able to fund close to 25% of the grant requests we received for 1980, and were forced to reluctantly deny funding for worthwhile projects because our resources in the General Fund are limited. So, the grants listed under Grants from the General Fund are the ones that the Board of Trustees and staff carefully considered along with many other requests, and decided were the projects that best met immediate needs in the community.

These grants are made under special circumstances, mostly at the specific request of the donor. A donor, for instance, may make a substantial contribution to OCCF, and with this gift, meet his or her philanthropic commitments to many agencies. We, in effect, manage their philanthropic giving. A percentage of the gift will stay in the Foundation, and the donor may request that we distribute certain sums to specific institutions immediately. This must be done with the approval of the Board of Trustees, and their approval of the recipient agency. These grants from principal are most often useful when a donor wants to give OCCF an oil property or securities, and we can then accommodate the donor by making cash distributions of a portion of the principal in the donor's name; the donor has then met all of his philanthropic obligations for the year with the one donation to the Community Foundation.

WAYS OF GIVING TO THE COMMUNITY FOUNDATION

GIFTS TO THE FOUNDATION

The Oklahoma City Community Foundation is a public charity, offering the donor maximum tax advantages.

Because we are a Foundation for the entire community, gifts of all sizes are welcomed. Smaller gifts are often donated IN MEMORY of individuals or IN HONOR of someone. Such gifts are added to the General Fund unless specified. Appropriate notification is sent to the family of the honored person.

TO ESTABLISH A NAMED FUND IN THE FOUNDATION, a minimum gift of $1,000 is required. Upon such a donation, the donor may choose one of several options for the use of the fund.

Undesignated Funds, whose uses are left entirely to the judgment of the current trustees, are our most useful assets for meeting the immediate needs of the Oklahoma City area. Many worthwhile requests for funding come to the Community Foundation each year, requests that intend to solve the problems or enhance the life of our community. Undesignated gifts provide the most flexible funds to be used to meet these new and pressing needs.

Designated Funds ensure that the special charitable interest of the donor will continue to be responded to by the Trustees so long as such use appears appropriate. These funds, then, are the result of gifts or bequests for a specific field of interest or designated institution.

The staff and leadership of the Oklahoma City Community Foundation is available to advise you regarding participation in the Foundation's work. Call the Foundation office at 235-5603

OUTRIGHT BEQUEST

Many donors have provided gifts to the Foundation by will. The following form is suggested:

"I give and bequeath to The Oklahoma City Community Foundation, Inc., (describe gift) for its uses and purposes as they are defined in the Oklahoma City Community Foundations's Articles of Incorporation as they exist on the date hereof, or as it may hereafter be from time to time amended."

TRUSTS

The Foundation has received gifts which pay a lifetime of sums to the donor's family or friends or to the donor himself. When the life tenant dies, the funds remaining are then distributed to the Foundation for use throughout the community.

Charitable remainder trusts, annuity trusts, and unitrusts are special types of gifts requiring the execution of a special trust agreement with other than the Community Foundation. The drafting of such an agreement with its rather complex tax problems should be referred to the donor's own attorney. The Foundation's staff will assist in any way possible.

GIFTS BY LIVING DONORS

Individuals, corporations and other groups making gifts to the Foundation may suggest disbursements of income or principal, and, if in keeping with the charitable purposes of the Foundation, the request will be reviewed and authorized by the Board of Trustees.

Gifts of this type to the Foundation should be addressed to The Oklahoma City Community Foundation, Inc., with instructions as to which of the six trustee banks should handle the funds. A gift establishing an Individual Fund requires only a simple covering letter.

LIFE INSURANCE

Gifts of life insurance policies may be made by naming the Oklahoma City Community Foundation as beneficiary. If irrevocable, the premiums thereafter paid by the donor are deductible for income tax purposes. The proceeds after the death of the insured are not taxable as part of the donor's estate.

TRANSFER OF PRIVATE FOUNDATION

Since passage of the Tax Reform Act of 1969, the Trustees of many private foundations have given consideration to the advantages of transferring assets to community foundations.

Community foundations offer donors the maximum tax advantages available for charitable donations, which generally exceed the income credits to private foundations.

1. No excise tax: Unlike private foundations, the Oklahoma City Community Foundation is not required to pay the 2 percent excise tax on its net investment income.
2. Community foundations which qualify as being publicly supported do not have to satisfy a mandatory payout requirement.
3. Simplified reporting: Private foundations must annually file extensive financial reports and tax returns with the Internal Revenue Service. A community foundation relieves the private foundation of this burden.

INFORMATION FOR GRANT SEEKERS

The Oklahoma City Community Foundation provides financial assistance to agencies and organizations working for the betterment of life in the Greater Oklahoma City area. If your organization is tax-exempt, operating for such a betterment and is in need of such assistance, it may be eligible for a grant.

Before contacting us, you should know some important facts regarding our distribution policy. First, a donor to the Community Foundation may request that a particular agency receive the benefits from the donation, and if the Distribution Committee believes that the requested beneficiary is serving the needs of Oklahoma City, that request will be honored.

A substantial portion of the earnings from our trust funds is so designated, leaving a smaller portion available for distribution to other qualified grant seekers.

We have had no difficulty finding worthwhile organizations in this community to support; far more seek our help than we are able to aid. We, as a trustee of public funds, must use our best judgement in evaluating community needs, priorities, and the ability of the group to carry out the proposal. You, then, must remember that you are competing for funding with other worthwhile agencies whose work also serves the interest of Oklahoma City.

POLICY GUIDELINES:

The Foundation generally limits its grants to organizations in the Oklahoma City area, except as may be specially requested by particular funds. From the General fund, the Foundation prefers grants of the following types:

1. Seed money for start-up costs of new, innovative programs.
2. Grants which generate additional funding.
3. One-time grants for programs which do not require refunding.
4. Grants for programs which provide direct human services.
5. Grants for capital and equipment needs.

Among the purposes for which the Distribution Committee does not ordinarily recommend grants from Discretionary Funds are:

1. Annual campaigns, local or national.
2. Endowments.
3. Sectarian religious purposes.
4. Loans or assistance to individuals.
5. Scholarships, fellowships, and travel grants to individuals.
6. Research grants of a highly technical or specialized nature.
7. Operating or maintenance grants.

APPLYING FOR A GRANT:

If you believe your organization is eligible for assistance from the Oklahoma City Community Foundation, the application procedure is relatively simple.

If you have any questions regarding your group's eligibility or the appropriateness of the request, call the Foundation staff at 235-5603 and discuss what you have in mind. If our Foundation is not the place to seek funds for your project, we may be able to help you find other sources of support.

All proposals should be written, accompanied by evidence of your tax-exempt status. Where applicable, the initial grant request should include:

1. Rationale: A clear statement of the problem, including demonstration of need.
2. Objectives: A precise statement of how you plan to meet the problem.
3. Methodology: a description of how the activity is to be carried out.
4. Target population: Who will be served and how many will be served.
5. Evaluation: Your procedure for evaluating or measuring the success or failure of your project.
6. Finances: An annual as well as a project budget. Evidence as well of how the project will be funded beyond the term of the proposed grant. Will this grant generate additional funding?
7. Competence: Evidence of qualified personnel to carry out the proposed activity.

Applications would be received in the Foundation office no later than the 15th of November. Applicants will be notified as soon as feasible after the final decision of the Distribution Committee.

THE FOUNDATION CENTER LIBRARY

The Foundation Library is housed in the Community Foundation offices, containing information on foundations in Oklahoma and across the United States. Grant seekers may use the library free of charge for their research into funding sources. This is a service of the Community Foundation to the agencies and organizations of Oklahoma City. Call the Foundation Office for an appointment.

REPORT OF THE FINANCE COMMITTEE

The Community Foundation recognizes its responsibility to donors and grant recipients to manage the Foundation's investments in such a way that a reasonable current return is generated along with longterm growth to offset the eroding influence of inflation. Our strategy is based on a balanced approach which incorporates fixed income securities for their high current return and high quality equities with a combination of good current yields and above-average prospects for growth of earnings and dividends.

We are deeply aware of the pressures on the nonprofit agencies which result from inflation, and intend to continue managing our investments in such a way that we can provide the highest distributable income while continuing to plan for longterm growth.

The investments of the Community Foundation are managed by the Trust Departments of the six trustee banks, who are guided by policy directives from the Board of Trustees. The Board has the highest confidence in the judgment and expertise of our Fiscal Trustees, and deeply appreciates their concern for the beneficiaries of these funds. They understand the Foundation's work, and are clear about what the Board of Trustees expects them to do. They share the Board's commitment to providing as much distributable income for community needs as possible, while balancing that mandate with the long-term responsibility of planning for Foundation growth and future needs of the community.

Some of the Foundation assets are not income-producing, such as undeveloped real estate and mineral interests which we have received as gifts. It is our policy to convert such assets into income-producing assets whenever possible, unless, in our judgment, it is more prudent to hold them for long-term growth.

The Board of Trustees
Oklahoma City Community
Foundation, Inc.
Oklahoma City, Oklahoma

We have examined the accompanying statement of assets, liabilities and fund balance resulting from cash transactions of Oklahoma City Community Foundation, Inc. at January 31, 1980 and 1979, and the related statement of changes in fund balance for the years then ended. Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and, accordingly, included such tests of the accounting records and such other auditing procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

As described in Note 1, the Foundation's policy is to prepare its financial statements on a general basis of cash receipts and disbursements; consequently, certain revenues and the related assets are recognized when received rather than when earned, and certain expenses are recognized when paid rather than when the obligation is incurred. Accordingly, the accompanying financial statements are not intended to present financial position and results of operations in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly the assets, liabilities and fund balances arising from cash transactions of Oklahoma City Community Foundation, Inc. at January 31, 1980 and 1979, and the changes in its fund balances for the years then ended, and on the cash receipts and disbursements basis of accounting as described in Note 1, which basis has been applied in a consistent manner.

TWISTED

Like Greg Burns, we at the Oklahoma City Community Foundation hope that through our work we will help to preserve and nurture that part of our community that is worth valuing, preserving the beauty of our past, encouraging the best of our present, and planning now for a future community that will guarantee a nourishing, stimulating environment for our children.
