

GROWING Philanthropy

Growing Your Charitable Impact Through Advised Funds

John Frank and his wife, Susan, use advised funds at the Oklahoma City Community Foundation to simplify their charitable giving. Since 1993, they have supported more than 50 different charitable organizations, while their fund continues to grow over time.

“The Oklahoma City Community Foundation allows us to provide continued support to the programs and causes we care about most,” said John.

“Endowment is essential in ensuring sustainability for nonprofits.”

John and Susan Frank support Positive Tomorrows, an Oklahoma City elementary school for children of homeless families, through grants from their advised fund at the Oklahoma City Community Foundation.

Photo by Brandon Snider

