Trustee Scholarship Initiative 101

What is the Trustee Scholarship Initiative?

Established in 1998 by the Oklahoma City Community Foundation Trustees, the Trustee Scholarship Initiative is a series of award programs designed to encourage more students in central Oklahoma to attend college.

Community Foundation Scholars

The Community Foundation Scholars program rewards students from 52 central Oklahoma high schools. Guidance Counselors from the high schools participating in this program must also participate in our Central Oklahoma Guidance Counselor Network (see page 3). Students graduating from these high schools may qualify for one of two scholarship programs:

Community Foundation Scholars - Recipients include students who might not otherwise qualify for awards based solely on academic standards. These scholarships are awarded to good students who are active in their community. For the 2017-18 academic year, 92 Community Foundation Scholars will each receive a $2,000 award.

New Opportunities Scholars – Recipients will be the first in their family to attend college. Students apply as high school juniors and are approved for a program of specific activities that prepare them for college admission. For the 2017-18 academic year, 101 New Opportunities Scholars will each receive a $2,000 award.

Oklahoma Youth With Promise

Students who graduate high school while in Oklahoma's foster care system are eligible for scholarships through Oklahoma Youth With Promise. During the 2016-17 academic year, 34 students received scholarships through this program.

Nurse Education Program

The Nurse Education Program Scholarship is awarded to third and fourth year college students enrolled in a nursing program, as well as practicing Registered Nurses who are pursuing a nursing-related bachelor's degree. For the 2016-17 academic year, 11 nurses were awarded scholarships.

“As a high school student from south Oklahoma City, I never thought I would be able to overcome poverty, let alone attend a university. I always thought that college was just for people who could afford it. When I received a scholarship from the Oklahoma City Community Foundation, I felt as if my dreams were in reach.”

– Vu Huynh, 2015 Community Foundation Scholar

Guiding You Toward Success

Did you know, your high school guidance counselor is a key reason you are receiving a Community Foundation Scholars award? By participating in our Central Oklahoma Guidance Counselor Network, your counselor has ensured these scholarships will continue to be awarded to students from your high school. If you haven't thanked your counselor, we encourage you to take a moment and show them your appreciation!

Central Oklahoma Guidance Counselor Network

Guidance counselors from 52 central Oklahoma high schools participate in our Central Oklahoma Guidance Counselor Network to learn more about helping students prepare for college. Through the network, we provide free training and resources including continuing education workshops and campus visits for counselors to learn about college admissions and financial aid opportunities. In addition, we provide at least one Community Foundation Scholars award to each participating high school.

Changing the Path for Future Generations

Growing up in India, Dilip Patel witnessed firsthand how being the first person in your family to attend college can have a significant impact on future generations. Dilip's grandfather was a farmer who worked hard to provide for his family despite only having attended school through the third grade. Back then, Dilip says, education wasn't a priority, and children were expected to work on the farm. But his grandfather was determined to provide his children with the educational opportunities he never had, and Dilip's father went on to graduate from medical school.

"I experienced the difference that education made in my own family," Dilip said. "I learned then that education is the best gift you can give someone."

Dilip says his parents taught him the importance of a good education and hard work. He and his wife, Vibha, want to share these values with others. By making annual gifts to our Trustee Scholarship Initiative, the Patels provide college scholarships for two graduating high school seniors each year, one of whom will be the first in their family to attend college.

Thanks to Dilip and Vibha Patel's gifts to our Community Foundation Scholars program, students like Jesus Garcia will be the first in their family to attend college.

McGee Foundation Fund

One of nine original Trustees of the Oklahoma City Community Foundation, Dean A. McGee established the McGee Foundation in 1963 with his wife Dorothea. After Mr. McGee's death, the foundation created a fund at the Oklahoma City Community Foundation that supports awards through the Trustee Scholarship Initiative.

Winona S. Presley Fund

Schoolteacher Winona Presley established the fund through a gift in her will to support a variety of educational programs. Within the Trustee Scholarship Initiative, the Winona S. Presley Fund supports the activities of the Central Oklahoma Guidance Counselor Network.

Records-Johnston Family Foundation

Ross Johnston established the foundation in honor of his father, Willard Johnston. Ross was an original founder of The Midland Group, which is headed today by his son-in-law George Records. The fund supports awards through the Trustee Scholarship Initiative.

Willie Elizabeth Shipley Fund

A secretary for the Oklahoma State Senate for 48 years, Willie Elizabeth Shipley established the fund through a gift in her will. The fund supports awards for students through the Oklahoma Youth With Promise program.

Giving the Gift of Education

The Oklahoma Community Foundation administers the state's largest independent scholarship program, awarding more than $1.5 million to students throughout the state each year. The stories below illustrate how we help generous donors throughout our community give the gift of education to deserving students like you. Visit occf.org/directory for a list of the scholarship funds we administer.

Helping Women Follow Their Dreams

When Oklahoma City businesswoman Dortha Dever established a scholarship fund in 2007, she had a very specific goal in mind – to help young women earn a business degree. A graduate of Oklahoma City University, Dortha believed her education was the catalyst for a long and successful banking career. After retiring as assistant vice president of American Fidelity, she felt it was time to give back, and a scholarship to help other women enter careers in business allowed her to do just that.

Initially, the Dortha Dever Business Scholarship awarded $1,000 annually to one student. But Dortha's commitment to the scholarship continued, and after her death in 2015, a gift from her trust increased the awards to provide four students with $5,000 annually. Dortha would be pleased to know that her generosity will continue to help young women follow their dreams for years to come.

The Dortha Dever Business Scholarship is helping Oklahoma City University students like Sha Ingram and Karina Salazar-Lopez pursue careers in business.

Giving Back to the Community

As a business owner, Horace Stevenson prioritizes giving back to the community that gave him his start. "I've always just wanted to work hard and give back to my community," he said.

A graduate of Douglass High School and Oklahoma City University, Horace Stevenson opened his first restaurant, Horace's Grill, in 1968. He joined the McDonald's management program in 1977, and 10 years later he purchased his first of many McDonald's franchises.

Through the Horace Stevenson Scholarship at the Oklahoma City Community Foundation, his family is helping graduating seniors from the high schools located in Horace's restaurant trade areas (Douglass, Millwood, U.S. Grant, Capitol Hill, Southeast and Northeast high schools) attend college.

"The key to any community is education," Horace said. "By providing scholarships for students, we hope to provide them with opportunities that have the potential to change their lives."

Supporting Educational Opportunities

When Roy Thornton learned about the opportunity to help students attend college through the Oklahoma City Community Foundation, he knew he had found the perfect way for he and his wife, Darlene, to give back. A longtime member of the Kiwanis Club of Midwest City, Roy had worked with students through the club and wanted to help make a difference in their lives.

In 2014, they established the Roy Edward and Darlene Young Thornton Scholarship fund at the Oklahoma City Community Foundation. Through their fund, the Thorntons award two annual college scholarships to graduating seniors from the Midwest City-Del City School District.

"We were looking for a way to do something for our community, and I thought that scholarships would be a great way to help these kids," said Roy.

Roy and Darlene Thornton's generous gifts support educational opportunities for Midwest City-Del City students like Emily Schovanec and Aaron Foreman.

What is the Oklahoma City Community Foundation?

Established in 1969 by John and Eleanor Kirkpatrick, the Oklahoma City Community Foundation helps donors make a difference in the community through charitable giving. We are a 501(c)(3) charitable organization and one of more than 750 community foundations in the United States that work with donors to establish permanent endowment funds to benefit the community.

What is an endowment?

An endowment is a permanent fund established with a charitable gift. When we say permanent, we literally mean forever. Only a portion of these funds is available each year to support charitable efforts, like your scholarship award. The remaining portion is invested and will grow over time, ensuring it lasts forever.

What other programs do we support in the community?

We are able to award scholarships thanks to donors who make charitable gifts to provide opportunities for students to continue their education. We also work with donors to support hundreds of charitable organizations and activities in central Oklahoma, including arts programs, health care for those in need, beautification projects and community wellness programs.
